

Brain Busters

How old am I?

A boy turned to his father and asked, "How old are you, Dad?" "Not very old", his Dad replied, "I'll give you a clue and see if you can work out my age". His father thought for a moment and smiled to himself. "Come on Dad. Time is passing you know and you are getting older by the minute", laughed the young boy.

" Listen very carefully:

In five years time, I will be twice as old as I was fifteen years ago.

Think about it and tell me your answer".

Challenge:

How old are you?

Can you think of a brainteaser to which your age is the answer? Write it down.

Try one with another age and ask your friend to solve it!
